Halloween Social Problem-Solving Activity #1

Directions: Read each Halloween-themed situation carefully. Determine whether the student in each situation is making a "Good Choice" or a "Poor Choice." If it is a poor choice, suggest what the student should do next to behave in a more positive way and provide reasons for your choice.

Situation #1: Emily is excited about the school costume parade and decides to choose a costume that follows the school rules.

X Good Choice ___Poor Choice

Explanation/Suggestion Choosing a costume that follows the rules is a good idea. That way she won't get in trouble or have to take her costume off, which could make the day less fun.

Situation #2: While trick-or-treating, Jack is given raisins, He says, "Raisins?! Gross! I don't want those," and hands them back to the people who gave them to him.

___Good Choice X Poor Choice

Explanation/Suggestion Even if Jack doesn't like the raisins, he should just say "Thank you." If he doesn't want them, he can throw them away when he gets home or give them to someone else. What he said was rude and ungrateful.
